USPA News - Canadian pop star Justin Bieber was charged Wednesday with one count of misdemeanor vandalism for allegedly throwing eggs at his neighbor's residence in Southern California earlier this year, prosecutors said. The 20-year-old singer was not expected to be present for his 1:30 p.m.

PDT arraignment at the Los Angeles County Superior Court in Van Nuys, according the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office. If Bieber is convicted of vandalism with more than $10,000 in damages, he could face up to one year imprisonment and/or a fine of up to $50,000. Wednesday's misdemeanor charge arose from a vandalism call in the city of Calabasas at 7:40 p.m. PDT on January 9, when eggs were thrown at a residence on Prado De Grandioso in Calabasas. Bieber is accused of tossing eggs over a fence, splattering it onto his neighbor's house. Days after the incident, detectives executed a search warrant at Bieber's luxury home to recover video surveillance and other possible evidence related to the crime. Several pieces of evidence were recovered and removed from Bieber's residence, including the singer's iPhone and security camera system. Investigators previously said multiple suspects may have been involved in the vandalism, which caused an estimated $20,000 in damage to the front of the luxury home. Bieber's representative, Melissa Victor, did not immediately respond to requests for comment.
